

Lakeland Library Cooperative

PROVIDING SERVICES TO OUR MEMBER LIBRARIES

About Us

The Lakeland Library Cooperative is organized under Michigan Public Act 89 of 1977, which provides for the establishment of cooperative libraries. Lakeland's members include 41 public libraries in 78 locations across Allegan, Barry, Ionia, Kent, Montcalm, Muskegon, Newaygo and Ottawa counties.

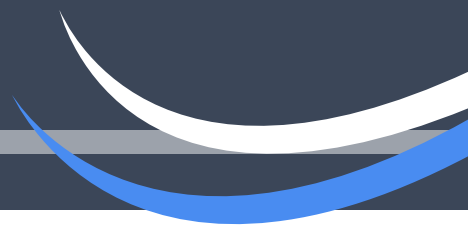

The mission of Lakeland Library Cooperative is to strengthen member libraries in eight west Michigan counties by providing the means to share resources, services and expertise for the benefit of individuals and communities. Lakeland policies are set by the membership as a whole and govern inter-cooperative activities. Individual member libraries are governed by policies set by their local boards.

The primary funding for the Cooperative is State Aid to Public Libraries including the Cooperative's 1/3-share and the member libraries' indirect 1/3-share. Yearly, before annual budgets are finalized, member libraries choose from a menu of services offered by Lakeland. Members' costs are reduced by economies of scale through group purchasing.

How did Lakeland Library Cooperative get started?

In 1971 the Grand Rapids Public Library began a federally funded pilot project that offered free reference services and borrowing privileges at Grand Rapids to libraries in Kent, Ottawa, Ionia, and Montcalm counties.

When federal support ended in October 1973, a way to maintain those services, and to add others, was sought. Through a series of meetings and the drafting of a charter for a new library system, that way was found: The Lakeland Library Federation. In 1977 the Michigan Public Act 89 of 1977 established cooperative libraries, which is when the current governance of the Lakeland Library Cooperative replaced the Federation.

Board

A board comprised of representatives from member libraries governs the Cooperative. There are nine board members:

- Group E: Kent District Library—2 permanent members
- Group D: Grand Rapids Public Library, Herrick District Library (Holland) and Muskegon Area District Library—1 permanent member each
- Group C: Georgetown Township Library (Jenison), Hackley Public Library (Muskegon), Ionia Community Library and Loutit District Library (Grand Haven)—1 member rotated alphabetically for a two year term
- Group A and B: remaining 32 libraries—1 elected member from Group A, Group B and a third member from either A or B for two year terms each
